§1. As his feet splash through the warm waters of a huge outdoor pool at Dolphin Cove in the Florida Keys, USA, ten-year-old Jamie has a delighted expression on his face. He suffers from a disability which means he has difficulty communicating with the rest of the world, but the presence of playful dolphins elicits attention and squeals of pleasure. His parents are happy, too. 'In the past, he wouldn't even touch anything solid, and now he's grabbing hold of the dolphin's fin', says May, Jamie's mother. 'It's opening a new world for him.'

§2. The captive dolphins are part of the Dolphin Human Therapy programme, established by Dr David Nathanson, who uses dolphins to help children with mental and physical disabilities. The dolphins are not treated as miracle healers. Instead, the possibility of touching their grey-suede skin or even having a swim with a dolphin is a reward that encourages children like Jamie to respond to their teachers, who sit with the children at the water's edge. The sessions start with the teacher encouraging the child to motion 'hello' to a dolphin, which responds with a shake of its head or fin. The child is offered another chance to play with the dolphin if he or she works hard during the session.

§3. Adults too are attracted to swimming with captive dolphins as well. At a theme park near Orlando, people pay to have a 30-minute swim with them. It is a deeply memorable experience. When a swimmer slides into water alongside a dolphin they can actually feel their skin tingling as the dolphin scans them with sonar (гидролокатор). Then with a flip of their powerful tails, the dolphins are off, gliding around effortlessly, clearly observing their human visitors.

§4. Anyone tempted to swim with wild dolphins, however, should be careful. They can have a vicious streak. Male dolphins will sometimes kill baby dolphins, to attract the attention of females. They have also been filmed killing small porpoises (animals similar to dolphins), probably mistaking them for baby dolphins.

§5. Scientists have discovered that dolphins 'talk' to each other, through a form of whistling. The animals practise 'whistle matching', which is when one dolphin whistles and another repeats the sound within three seconds.

§6. Back at Dolphin Cove, the dolphins' contribution to the children's progress is acknowledged. 'I think dolphins are incredible,' says Jeffrey Bicknell, who works with the children. 'I've seen them look at a child and observe what the problem is, and change their behaviour according to the nature of the problem. They are more dominant with some children, more patient with others.'

A37. Jamie benefits from his sessions with the dolphins because

- 1) he has never been swimming before.
- 2) he plays with the dolphins in the water.
- 3) he has always enjoyed being with animals.

A38. When the dolphins are with the children, they

- 1) sometimes play amongst themselves.
- 2) try to attract the children's attention.
- 3) react when the children wave at them.

A39. Studies of wild dolphins have shown that some are

- 1) aggressive towards other dolphins.
- 2) more unfriendly than they used to be.
- 3) willing to swim with humans.

A40. Jeffrey Bicknell points out that dolphins

- 1) prefer playing with particular types of children.
- 2) behave according to the needs of individual children.
- 3) communicate with each other about the children.

Nero, the handsome seven-year-old African lion, can obviously sense, early though it still is, that this is not going to be just another day. (A43) _____

The courtyard outside is noisy with people carrying bottles, syringes, drugs, drips and bandages and in half an hour a mini operating theatre is set up right on Nero's doorstep. (A44) _____

"The nerve in the tooth is now totally dead," explains veterinary dentist Peter Kertesz, who has worked on animals' teeth for 14 years. (A45) _____

Peter and his assistant Samantha divide their time between working with humans (Mondays to Thursdays) and treating animals (Fridays). Under the name Zoodent International, Peter, 47, performs more dental work on animals than any other practice in the world.

"Working with animals is much more difficult than with humans," he says, as Samantha lays out the rows of dental instruments. "With an animal, I have to make an on-the-spot diagnosis and work very quickly." (A46) _____

Peter now moves close to the bars of Nero's cage and expertly directs a tiny, plastic blowpipe dart, containing a high dose of anaesthetic, into the lion's thigh (бедро). (A47) _____

It takes six men to lift and move the 180 kilogram animal 2 metres from his cage door to the hay mattress that will serve as an operating table.

(A48) _____ Peter discovers a tooth that needs filling and he sets about doing that first. "This is the same stuff as we use for human teeth," he says, packing the medicine into the cavity. "There's just more of it."

The dental work now over, Peter removes a gas canister from the lion's mouth. Without the supply of gas, Nero will start coming round fairly quickly, so the keepers move fast to pull him back to his cage. As Peter packs up, the lion stirs. The great yellow eyes are beginning to lose their drugged and sleepy look. "Don't be fooled," says Peter, "He might appear sleepy but he could react very quickly now if he wanted to ..."

1) He has spent the night in his cage, as usual, but now, when he should be wandering through the Safari Park, he's still here. He paws irritably at the bars of his cage.

2) As he roars his disapproval, he reveals the broken front tooth that is the reason for all this fuss. Today, the dentist is visiting the king of the jungle.

3) "It could become infected and result in an abscess. An infected tooth may eventually kill an animal once the bacteria enter the bloodstream."

4) "The tinned food we feed them doesn't contain the fibre, which is a self-cleaning agent and is bad for the teeth," says Peter.

Заполните пропуски A46–A48 одним из предложенных текстовых фрагментов (1–4). Один фрагмент является лишним.

1) Nero lets out a loud growl before falling to the floor of his cage. Peter waits for a few minutes before giving the signal to unlock the heavy barred door.

2) Samantha checks that everything is in place. Once everything's ready, she signals to Peter that they are all set for the patient.

3) The lion opens his mouth and keeps his jaws wide apart to let Peter inspect his mouth for any other dental problems.

4) Peter sets to work immediately, examining the great mouth with the help of an endoscope – a long metal tube with a light at its tip.
